Date Listed: January 2007

POSITION: PRINCIPAL

---

- Outstanding career opportunity in a unique Canberra setting

DETAILS: The Australian International Hotel School (AIHS), a proud member of the Orion Hotel School Global Alliance, produces industry ready graduates with 'real world' experience through programs that combine industry placement with academic studies. Students benefit from the global tourism and hospitality management experience of AIHS staff. Their industry placement includes an internship at the historic Hotel Kurrajong, Canberra's award-winning hotel, operated by AIHS in a restored heritage listed building.

Following the departure of their longstanding and well regarded Principal, AIHS now seeks another outstanding leader to build upon her work. Reporting to the Board of Directors, you will be responsible for providing the School and the Hotel Kurrajong with vision, strategic leadership and day-to-day management of key functional areas. Developing and enhancing strategic alliances with industry, government, feeder and related colleges and other organisations are important responsibilities of the role.

To succeed you must have well-rounded experience of managing an educational organisation and a recognised professional reputation. This would be based on your thorough understanding of the education market and track record of success in recruiting students. Hospitality experience, energy, willingness to roll up sleeves and do whatever is necessary to meet the challenges of the School's and the Hotel Kurrajong's future development are also crucial. Tertiary qualifications, preferably at post graduate level, are essential.
